A VISIT WITH SANTA ON THE MALL

117

CHRISTMAS WISH...

To all who read these words from all those who write them: Merry Christmas.

CHRISTMAS SHELF...

It's timely to look upon some Christmas traditions which are steeped in the lore and beliefs of the Nordic peoples.

Trees and snow and St. Nicholas are only a few of the familiar symbols founded in Northern Europe, places the ninth and tenth century Nordics were scoring "The Viking Achievement." Which is a current book by P. G. Foote and D. M. Wilson about the explorer-warriors of Scandinavia.

One reason I am interested in Vikings, who were both ferocious fighters and disciplined seafarers, as well as herdsmen and farmers, is that most forebears in this country came from Nordic stock, even in White Russia, the Slavic nations, beside Britain, Scotland, Ireland, and North Germany.

The Vikings traversed the seas to Egypt and to the Middle East and Greece and a faltering Rome, even while Southern Europeans were worried about falling off the end of a "flat" world.

Vikings invaded Paris in the 900s by sailing down the Seine River and they peopled Normandy, Sicily, and Southern Italy amongst the natives.

The Teutons defied earlier Roman invasions and conquered whole areas of Northern and Northeast Europe and Northern Italy, but not Scandinavia, whose stock provided new blood for the aggressive Europeans from the Crusades forward.

For instance, and a personal one, the name Luecke with two dots over the "u" means "gap." The dots translate the "u" into "ue" in later German and English. When I was in college, a German-Mexican, of Mexico City, said the name translated "port-hole" or "opening," much the same as "gap." So it is easy to see how seafaring Viking influence d Teuton may be 1200 years ago.

This kind of thing makes more sense in reading another book by Alistar Cooke, the BBC correspondent and America watcher, called simply "America."

The New World Europeans threw back King George and his armies, both German mercenary and Redcoat, by most odds enjoying the revolution like so many Viking pillaging the coast of Northern Britain 900 years earlier.

Cooke traces the 200 years since the Revolution and touches on New Foundland, where the Vikings left off about 500 years before Columbus and other Spanish navigators found the West Indies and Cuba.

At the time of the Revolution, a quarter of the population in the Colonies was Germanic, a figure that increased dramatically after an 1848 revolution failed in a newly federated Germany and hundreds of thousands came to America prior to the Civil War. The Germanic vote elected Abraham Lincoln in 1860, a turning point toward secession and civil war and the conquest of industrial over agrarian economy. Scandinavians came in lesser numbers.

Through these centuries, the Northern European Christmas traditions and legends melded with the Biblical Christmas to establish so much of what we know as Christmas, 1976.

Fierce as they were the Viking-Teutonic peoples captured the serenity and grace of Christianity from the Middle East, a region the Vikings once had reached and collective Europeans later had crusaded toward at least six times.

These vital people contributed both order and chaos to this land only 200 years old this Christmas, a land which Swedish sociologist Gunnar Myrdal recognizes as the "conservative tradition" where American struggles to preserve "very radical principles indeed."

Perhaps this ancient Viking poem explains the Western enigma, both warlike and quiescent, a creed by which we still live and die:

"Wealth dies
kinsmen die,
a man dies likewise himself;
but fame
dies never,
for him who gets good fame.

"Wealth dies
kinsmen die,
a man dies likewise himself;
I know one thing
that never dies,
the verdict on each man dead."

Shooting Scrape At Rockdale Nets Charge, Injuries

A shooting scrape at Rockdale Sunday afternoon around 4:30 resulted in serious injuries to one of the parties involved, and a charge of assault with attempt to murder against the other.

According to Rockdale Police Chief Felipe Martinez, James Lewis and J. D. Miller, both of Rockdale, met in their cars on East Third St. in Rockdale. Lewis reportedly pointed a pistol at Miller and the two exchanged words.

Miller then pulled out a 12-gauge shotgun from inside his car and shot Lewis in the hand and arm. Miller then turned himself in to the police at Rockdale. Bond was set at $1,000 after the charge was filed.

Lewis was taken to Scott and White Hospital in Temple where his condition was described as serious but satisfactory.

City Records 142 Accidents In Eleven Months

The Cameron Police Department's record of traffic accidents from Jan. 1, 1976 through Nov. 30, 1976 shows that the city experienced 142 traffic accidents during this 11-month period for an average of 13 accidents per month.

Approximately 37 per cent of these occurred on Highways 36 and 77. There was one fatality and 19 injuries. Two hundred sixty-eight vehicles and 247 drivers were involved. The high cost of hospital care and auto repair make the resulting bodily injury and property damage substantial from an expense standpoint.

Seven locations accounted for 18 percent of all accidents. They include: intersection of Hwy. 36 and 77, 9 accidents; intersection of Hwy. 77 and 22nd St., 4; intersection of Hwy. 36 and Crockett, 4; intersection of Hwy. 36 and Fannin, 3; intersection of Hwy. 36 and Bowie, 3; intersection of Jackson and 13 St., 2; and intersection of Columbus and Hwy. 36, 2; for a total of 27.

The report shows the age group most involved were 15-19 year olds, 21 percent; over 65, 18 percent; those 20-25, 17 percent. These three groups account for 56 percent of all drivers involved.

Thirty-four percent of accidents were caused by failure to yield. These generally occurred at intersections protected by stop signs, yield signs or signals.

Some others were failure to control speed, improper backing, following too closely, double parking in traffic lanes (temporarily), improper parking in the marked spaces downtown and the left hand side of streets.

Many of Cameron's traffic accidents are related to driver error. Such errors can be minimized by driver education such as the National Safety Council's defensive driving course. Promotion of such defensive driving courses could be handled by local citizens, fire department, police department, clubs, etc.

The city of Cameron is currently making a traffic sign survey to determine the need for new and additional traffic sign locations. The city is being assisted by Jim Mallory, professional engineer assigned by the Central Texas Council of Governments to conduct the survey.

Ed Bigbee, code enforcement officer, said, "These signs will probably cost you, the taxpayer, approximately $10,000 to $12,000 to purchase and install. We hope that you all will remember this before any of you decide it would be fun to deface any traffic control device by writing messages on them, damaging or removing a sign that has been placed to help protect you."

Drive Chairman Sees Goal Near

The fund drive for Cameron's United Way campaign is coming along well, according to Rod Holcombe, drive chairman, with approximately $9,000 collected or in pledges so far.

Bank balance reads about $5,350, but this is not counting funds contri-

Citians Air Complaints To Council

Complaints took up the first part of a regular city council meeting Tuesday evening, with one about the price of water and the other about streets.

Mrs. John Jistel appeared before council and said she is indignant about paying for water that she doesn't use. She was on the minimum $1.25 rate before the rates went up and she says she now pays $2 more for water she is not using. "It's a sin to make me pay when I don't use it," she said.

Mayor Lawrence Zott explained that rising costs made the rate increase a must and the city cannot make special rates for anyone. "There's nothing we can do," he said.

Mrs. Jistel then ventured a parting shot about water standing in her yard and added, "And you haven't done anything about the dogs, either."

Service Held For Former City Councilman

Starrett Hickman, former city councilman and local businessman, died in a Cameron hospital Sunday morning. He was 74.

Mr. Hickman was born in Cameron and was a retired groceryman. He served on the Cameron city council for a number of years before his retirement because of his health. He was a member of the First Baptist Church in Cameron.

Funeral was at 3:30 p.m. Monday in Marek - Burns - Laywell Funeral Home chapel in Cameron, with Rev. Vernon Dietrich officiating. Burial was in the Walkers Creek Cemetery.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. La-Vada Hickman of Cameron; and two brothers, Tom Hickman of Brady and C. S. Hickman of Temple.

Fire Destroys RHS Building

A fire of undetermined origin completely destroyed the ag building and greenhouse at Rockdale High School Tuesday evening, with the alarm being sounded at 6 p.m.

Three Rockdale fire trucks and one truck from Cameron were called out but the frame building with aluminum siding could not be saved. The building was about two years old.

Officials are investigating the blaze and no estimate of the loss was available at presstime.

Alcoans at the Rockdale plant, and also does not include pledges and cards still out.

Holcombe said he is "optimistic" about the drive and confident the $10,000 goal will be met soon.

The other complaint was voiced by Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Spicak who live on Park St. Mrs. Spicak said underground water pipes are always breaking and when the break is repaired the street department never puts the gravel back and they have a mud hole in front of their place.

She said she called Councilman Gene Lumpkin about it the last time it happened and he hung up on her. Lumpkin said she did not want to give him her name and address when she called. Zott promised the matter would be seen to.

In other business, two used garbage trucks were sold to John Brasher for $793, and bids were opened on a motorized rodger for the sewer department, low bid going to Rockwell International of Dallas for $5,168.95.

City Code Inspector Ed Bigbee told the council the city has need for a year-round fire prevention program, not just once a year. He also recommended approval of a building permit on North Burns in a flood prone area contingent on the grade being 16 inches higher than the street. Permission was also granted to Bigbee to attend some code training courses at Waco next year.

Council discussed the collection of delinquent taxes and voted approval for the secretary and city attorney to pursue collection. City Secy. Buddy Fuller said collections run around 94 percent, but there are some taxes that have been uncollected for years.

City Hall will be closed Friday as a holiday as will the Friday before New Years.

Council approved a resolution from the highway department in which it abandons plans for paving 22nd St. because of failure to obtain the needed right-of-ways.

It was also decided to contact the superintendent of the crew currently placing underground pipe for telephone cables to make street repairs as they go along.

Santa Letters Spark Christmas Herald

As is our custom each year, The Herald publishes hundreds of letters to Santa from boys and girls in the surrounding area. This year, as usual, strange requests top the list of letters with that "extra something" that draws the eye.

For instance, what in the world is a "dollovalledil" or a "flingairplan-ty" -- this one signed "Yorrs truk." One boy wants a taperacuter, tin can alley, pellet gun and another asked for a rubber eyecup.

Surely Santa will know what a baby laef and a habon bode is, or a food-ball, walli, hamer jaemecaeof aofibul at 31 in. One boy asked simply, "will you brag me a pone." A little girl asked for a Babby Babby and a Jaws and a Boinic Woman." Santa will not fail even though he may have to scratch his beard a bit to decipher the letters.

Earrings were on the list for lots of little girls, and one added that she wanted hers "picred." Two tries in one letter from a first grader finally made it from I want a hose to I Wat a Hrose. Everyone knows that means horse, Santa. But will he know what a welbe wouble gost house is?

Longing for pets brings this request in a letter: "Bring me a stustif puppy dog with a red clorer." She also asked for a gold necklus with a wistle and "my own birlflower." And Santa will be glad to send a rasing set, krash bank krak them up put them back to geln.

Lots of the letters ask about the famous red-nosed reindeer. "How is Roup?" one asks, along with

"how are the els." They all show concern about how Santa and Mrs. Claus are feeling, making sure of good health for the long trip from the north pole.

One letter signed "You'er friend," states that he has too many brothers to name. A lot of letters ask for things for mother and father, and sisters and brothers.

The opening greeting on some of the letters are enough to give pause to Santa. "Dear Santa Closet and Mrs. Closet" reads one letter in greeting. Sant Clous is another greeting. One letter wishes a "Marry Christmas and A Harry New Year."

A poignant note is sounded by a child who wants someone to love, and by another who wants his daddy to get well. And one child asked for nothing for himself, only that "everybody in the world to be happy."

The most popular toy this year seems to be the Six Million Dollar Man, followed by the Bionic Woman, Stretch Armstrong, and something called the Green Machine.

Old favorites still find a place on the lists, with Baby That-Away again popular after being introduced last year and new a game of Jaws to be played. Balls, football sets, helmets, guns, holsters and horses also come in for their share of requests.

Deep suspicion of Santa is displayed by one youngster who says, "You are not going to bring it. Our mothers bring it." Another, perhaps with a little more faith, asks, "Will you come and deliver it and not the mothers and fathers do it."

Quintessential: B.C., A.D.

I happen to believe in what I do. That's my Christmas. What's Christmas to you?

I could tell you a lot of things: what the church says, what the stores say, what tradition says.

But that's not enough. Is it?

What do you say?

That it's hearth and home? That it's Santa Claus and kids? That it's God's infant come to earth? That it's miracle time?

Some truth to all this, n'est-ce pas? And who is to know in this life a whole truth?

A child knows. A child trusts. A child gives hope. Out of innocence, out of not knowing, a child is an example.

Are we children, you now reading, and I, now writing?

No, we are not children. We are not innocent.

We are alive, children grown large, memory working, interests working.

What do we know in this growing, in this reading, this writing?

I am not afraid, because I am lucky. You are afraid a little, not too much, because you are not so lucky?

I am a dreamer out here in reality. You only know what you read, mistrust much of that and doubt even more of what happens, except that much of experience hurts.

So I say Christmas is courage and Christmas is a concept. We share the magnificence of this concept in the inspiring story of a new day, hope, told in the Birth of a Child.

Not everybody shares that view, but they, almost to a man, share hope that one birth can do all that, throughout this world of 3 1/2 billions. Unity is easy to understand. Nature is not.

I said I happen to believe in what I do. That's love. I love those who love me. And perhaps that's not many. And perhaps that's not easy. That's also my Christmas, not perfection, but the way things are.

The tinsel makes it brighter. The promises make it palatable. The legends make it interesting.

I happen to think Christmas is knowledge and experience, not mere innocence. We can't know much of love and hope, of Christmas, without a record to go against, can we?

I happen to think Christmas is learning more of ourselves, that it is no one-day vigil, no one-season celebration, no one-birth explanation.

I think Christmas is the quintessential aspiration of man, B.C. and A.D.

Budget Quickly Shrinks Windfall

An estimated $3 billion general revenue windfall quickly shrank to $1.189 billion as the Legislative Budget Board put finishing touches to the 1978-79 state budget.

The legislative leaders recommended general fund appropriations for the next biennium of more than $4.8 billion.

While the budget-writers sharply pruned spending requests of all agencies, the total outlays inevitably soared. They held Gov. Dolph Briscoe's proposals for highway assistance to about a third of the $825 million he asked. From the $1.189 billion left must come funds for additional public school aid, teacher salary hikes and other demands for more spending certain to be heard.

About $291.3 million of the increases directed would go to state employee pay raises of 6.8 per cent and 5.1 per cent (for each year of the coming fiscal period).

Other general revenue fund spending increases include $121.1 million to the foundation school program; $160 million to the Department of Highways and Public Transportation; $67.6 million to Department of Public Safety; $137.5 million to public junior colleges; $128.8 million to health science units of higher education; $235.2 million for the colleges and universities; $209.5 million for medical assistance; $76 million for teachers retirement and $150.8 million for the Department of Corrections.

Education would take $2.5 billion of the general revenue outlay, health, mental health, rehabilitation and welfare $1 billion, executive and administrative agencies $1.14 billion, the legislative $51.6 million and the judiciary $37.5 million.

Electors Meet

Texas presidential electors met here last week, cast the state's 26 votes for Jimmy Carter and Walter Mondale and recommended that the electoral college system be abolished.

Electors split 18-8 on the proposal to seek a constitutional change and allow the voters to elect presidents directly in the future. The vote for Carter and Mondale, as expected, was 26-0. Several other state electors also agreed that the president should be elected by direct popular vote rather than through the electoral college system provided in the constitution.

Allowable Set

The statewide oil production allowable for January was trimmed a percentage point and set at 98 per cent by the Railroad Commission.

A commissioner predicted it will range from 90 to 100 per cent for the next six months.

Meanwhile, a commission study will seek to determine if any oil is being wasted. Crude oil imports of 5.9 million barrels a day into the U.S. are up 1.2 million barrels over the January 2 average.

The December 16 allowable hearing was the last for Railroad Commissioner Ben Ramsey who did not seek re-election and is stepping down January 1.

Swine Flu Shots End

On request of federal authorities, Texas Department of Health Resources declared a moratorium on the swine flu campaign.

Action was taken on the national level pending a thorough investigation of polio-like symptoms in some who had taken the vaccine.

About 4,000 persons a year develop the symptoms, according to Dr. Fratis L. Duff, director of the Texas Department of Health Resources. Duff said about 90 per cent recover from the temporary paralysis. Actual number of cases of the syndrome which occur normally (having no connection with the vaccine) is not known.

Court Speaks

Workers locked out by their bosses in labor disputes should be allowed to draw unemployment compensation, the State Supreme Court held in affirming a Waco Court of Civil Appeals decision.

The Court of Criminal Appeals overturned three decisions:

One reversed the conviction of an El Paso County man for assault in the death of another man he struck.

Another sent back to Dallas for retrial the case of a man convicted for assault to murder after introduction of evidence of an earlier conviction.

The third reversed the five-year probation sentence given a Jefferson County night club manager for assault with a prohibited weapon.

AG Opinions

Atty. Gen. John Hill has been called on by the Senate Jurisprudence Committee chairman to write an opinion on whether the State Bar's $4 million mortgage on its new building is proper.

In recent opinions, Hill held:

Dear editor:

I started to write a Christmas letter this week but I figure everybody with a television set has been hearing about Christmas every other commercial since way before Thanksgiving, so I don't think I'll get around to it, except to say that I guess you notice it comes on Saturday this year. Not even Congress has the nerve to make Christmas come on Monday every year.

I was watching the news on TV the other evening and I noticed that the heads of the oil producing countries over there in the desert, arriving at a meeting to tell us how much oil is going to cost us in 1977, all rode up in American-built automobiles. Don't know what we charged them for their cars, not to mention their airplanes tanks, grain, etc., but whatever it was it wasn't enough.

Speaking of oil, I understand that even when we get the Alaskan pipe line completed, we're still going to have to pick up the oil in tankers at ports somewhere up there in the frozen north to finally get it to refineries down here.

It seems to me we weren't thinking far enough ahead. Instead of spending billions of dollars to build the pipe line, then spending more to haul it out by tanker from the end of the line in a hurry before the water freezes over, all so people in the rest of the U.S. can ride around in cars--instead of all that, wouldn't it have simpler and cheaper to build a refinery up there in Alaska, install a string of filling stations, and send people up there to ride around in their cars?

Oh well, it's just a yuletide thought. As the ancient saying goes, some people can't see the filling station for the smog. Anyway, Merry Christmas.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Gov. Dolph Briscoe named Jack H. Stallings of El Paso to the Commission for Indian Affairs.

Rep. Emmett Whitehead of Rusk will serve on a commission studying possible reductions in welfare health programs.

Windfall Time

Texas cities levying the sales tax received $302.8 million in tax rebates during calendar year 1976 -- a 14.4 per cent increase over 1975. The 864 cities got $50.6 million for December -- $9.8 million more than in December 1975.

Another 49 cities and 34 counties will be getting a "Christmas bonus" totaling $1.5 million as the result of a State Supreme Court ruling which upheld the Texas mixed drink tax. Another $3.8 million will be deposited in the general revenue fund of the state government. Cities are due to get $774,788 and counties $895,923 from the drink tax backlog.

Short Snort

About a fourth of school districts have filed appeals from the estimates of their taxable property made by the Governor's Office of Educational Resources as the basis of Gov. Briscoe's school finance plan.

Romans To Retire At Rosebud

George Romans, district conservationist in Rosebud, will retire Dec. 30. Romans' career began with the Farmers Home Administration two years after he graduated from high school. He worked for four years with FHA and then attended Oklahoma State University from 1939 through 1942 where he received his degree in agronomy. In January of 1943, Romans went to work for the Soil Conservation Service in Nocona. From there he was headquartered at Graham, Cleburne, Burleson, Quanah, and then Whitesboro before coming to Rosebud in March of 1969. Romans has served more years in Rosebud than in any other location.

In 1953, while at Cleburne, Romans and his staff were awarded a certificate in recognition of outstanding performance in assisting farmers and ranchers in applying soil and water conservation practices. In 1957, while at Burleson, Romans received a certificate of merit, a cash award, and a letter of commendation signed by State Conservationist H.N. Smith for superior performance in advancing the soil and water conservation program, including watershed.

The Romans have four children, a daughter and three sons.

Holidays Call For Eye Safety

There's so much to see at this holiday time--don't spoil the view by carelessness, warns the Texas Society for the Prevention of Blindness. Keep the holiday spirit visible throughout the year by making sure the family adopts good eye safety habits during this season and all of 1977. The Society warns that each year an estimated 167,000 school-age children suffer eye injuries, many of them caused by inappropriately selected toys or poor safety precautions. A toy chemistry set can blow up, but if a potential Nobel prize winner is given safety goggles, not only will his eyes be protected from possible explosions, but he will get into the habit of practicing eye safety. Most of all, parents can set a good safety example by giving gifts of eye safety goggles for use in the workshop, working on cars, mowing the lawn and in any situation where the danger of flying particles may occur. Proper supervision should be given to all children with potentially dangerous toys. The major responsibility for toy related eye accidents and eye loss rests with parents. The Texas Society for the Prevention of Blindness, devoted completely to sight conservation, wants all members of your family to see the flowers of spring. Provide them with safe eye habits and eye safety gear.

Pot Plant Popular Yule Gift

Pot plants are popular gifts during the holiday season. And with a little care, these living gifts will retain their beauty for a longer time. Dr. William C. Welch, landscape horticulturist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, advises a cool location for poinsettias, chrysanthemums, or azaleas. It is important to keep the plants out of drafts and away from heating sources. "Since Christmas plants usually come from a greenhouse where they get plenty of water, frequent watering is necessary in the home, usually every other day," advises Welch. "Since overwatering is possible, use a good planting media or a container with a hole in the bottom to allow proper drainage. "All new plants need a good light source," says the horticulturist. "The best light is by a window, but artificial light will do. A plant can be damaged by placing it in direct sunlight or too near a glass window. Some gift plants can be transplanted for prolonged beauty in the spring, notes Welch. Chrysanthemums are among the best plants for surviving the greenhouse-to-garden shock.

Christmas Is

While looking through my Christmas material, I came across this Poem I thought would be very appropriate for this time of year.

Christmas Is... by Sherrill Thompson

Christmas is a tree, with lights all aglow. Christmas is a candy cane and fresh and glistening snow. Christmas is a package full of anxious toys. Christmas is an angel's song that all the world enjoys. Christmas is a snowman, a kitten full of joy. Christmas is the answered prayer of every girl and boy. Christmas is the happiness that lights our children's eyes. Christmas is a star shedding hopeful light. Christmas is a tiny child smiling in the night. Christmas is a time of peace, of contentment deep within, a time of love and silent hope that years will never dim.

"Tolerance is the only real test of civilization,"
Sir Arthur Helps

ADD CHEER TO THE HOLIDAYS WITH A WALLBANGER POUND CAKE

Making elegantly simple pound cakes is a holiday tradition in many homes. This delectable variation combines the flavors of a Harvey Wallbanger with a pound cake mix that shortens the preparation time considerably, yet produces the moist, fine-grained, delicately-flavored cake that pound cake lovers expect.

Holiday Wallbanger Cake will stay fresh for days, or you can make it ahead and freeze it, to have on hand for unexpected guests, as well as for holiday desserts. And how about making an extra one as a gift?

HOLIDAY WALLBANGER CAKE

24-3/4 ounce package pound cake supreme mix
3 eggs

1-1/4 cups orange juice
1/4 cup Galliano® liqueur
1/4 cup soft margarine or butter

Preheat oven to 325°. Generously grease a 12-cup fluted tube pan. In large bowl, blend cake base and pound mix from package with rest of ingredients until moistened. Beat 2 minutes at medium speed (portable mixer use highest speed). Pour into prepared pan. Bake at 325° for 45 to 55 minutes or until toothpick inserted in center comes out clean. Cool until lukewarm; invert onto serving plate. Sprinkle contents of topping packet over completely cooled cake. Store tightly covered. Makes 10-inch ring cake. HIGH ALTITUDE - Above 3500 feet: Bake at 325° for 60 to 65 minutes.

Tasty Tips from Checkerboard Kitchens

COOKIES SAY MERRY CHRISTMAS

Cookies at Christmas time are a lovely tradition. While most of us have favorites (that we bake every year), it's always fun to add a few more. Try Sugarplums, Frosty Cherry Cookies and Choco Rum Balls. While all are different, they have one thing in common. Each uses a breakfast cereal—bite-size crispy rice or corn squares—for unusual texture, added flavor and nutrition.

Arrange your cookies on a pretty plate, tuck in some holly and serve with rich and creamy eggnog.

To use crushed Chex cereals in the recipes below, measure and crush to volume indicated by one of these methods:

• Measure into liquid measuring cup and crush to desired volume with wooden spoon.

• For fine crumbs, process in blender to required volume.

• Or crush in plastic bag with rolling pin, and measure into dry measuring cup.

SUGARPLUMS

2 eggs
1 cup sugar
1 1/2 tablespoons cornstarch
1 can (8 oz.) crushed pineapple, well drained
1 cup dried apricots, cooked, drained and chopped
1/2 teaspoon finely shredded orange peel
1/2 cup coarsely chopped nuts
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon orange extract
4 cups Corn Chex cereal crushed to 2 cups
1 1/3 cups (3 1/2 oz. can) shredded coconut

In saucepan, beat eggs slightly. Add sugar, cornstarch, pineapple, apricots and orange peel. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, until mixture comes to a boil. Boil two minutes. Remove from heat. Stir in nuts, salt and extract. Add cereal crumbs. Mix well. Cool. Drop from teaspoon onto coconut and shape into one-inch balls. Makes 4 1/2 dozen.

CANDY FRUIT CORNUCOPIA

Fill sandwich bags with a variety of hard candies, mints and candy sticks. Gather at top and tie with twist ties, pipe cleaners or strips of green plastic bag, with the ends cut like leaves. Arrange in wicker cornucopia available at most five and ten cent stores.

FROSTY CHERRY COOKIES

1/2 cup butter or margarine
1 cup and 3 tablespoons sugar
1 egg
1/2 teaspoon almond extract
1 1/2 cups all-purpose flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon baking soda
1/2 teaspoon baking powder
2 cups Rice Chex cereal (bite-size crispy rice squares) crushed to 1 cup
1/2 cup chopped green and red glace cherries

Preheat oven to 350°. Cream butter and 1 cup sugar. Add egg and almond extract. Beat well. Sift together dry ingredients. Add to creamed mixture. Mix well. Stir in cereal crumbs and cherries. Shape into 3/4-inch balls. Roll in remaining 3 tablespoons sugar. Place 2 inches apart on baking sheet. Bake 8-10 minutes or until bottoms are lightly browned. Makes 6 dozen.

TABLECLOTH

Create a cloth you won't have to clean by cutting heavy-weight trash bags down one side and across the bottom. Open flat, and tape together as many as needed to cover the table. Decorate with autumn leaves cut from contact paper.

CHOCO RUM BALLS

6 cups Rice Chex cereal (bite-size crispy rice squares) crushed to 1 1/2 cups
1 cup sifted confectioners sugar
1 cup finely chopped pecans
2 tablespoons cocoa
1/8 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup corn syrup
3 tablespoons water
1 1/2 teaspoons rum extract
1/4 teaspoon almond extract
Maraschino cherries
Dates, pitted
Pecans
1/3 cup confectioners sugar (for coating)

Mix together first 5 ingredients. Combine syrup, water and extracts. Add slowly to crumb mixture. Blend well. Butter hands. Shape mixture into balls or around bits of cherries, dates or pecans. ## Get Off The Can, Get On The Stick

WASHINGTON

Reuter - Americans who have been spraying themselves for years with deodorants and hair lotions may soon have to find new ways to smell sweet and look good.

The Federal Food and Drug Administration (FDA) wants to ban the use of over two billion aerosol spray cans now common in almost every bathroom and kitchen.

FDA Commissioner Alexander Schmidt, who retired this week hopes the ban can be effective within a year -- and that the rest of the world will follow the American example.

The FDA believes the fluorocarbon gas used as a propellant in the cans will weaken the ozone layer in the earth's atmosphere which acts as a shield against ultraviolet rays, thus leading to an increase in skin cancer and raise the earth's temperature.

If FDA and other agencies are successful in their campaign against fluorocarbons, it will mean a major -- and costly -- changes in packaging of thousands of household beauty and cleaning products.

Some companies are already trying out new containers for their products.

Hair sprays and other products are now available in hand-operated pump sprays and a few underarm deodorants are already sold in solid stick - form for application directly to the skin.

Manufacturers of spray cans for shaving cream and paint say their cans do not use fluorocarbons and should be safe.

The FDA shares jurisdiction over aerosols with the Consumer Product Safety Commission and the Environmental Protection Agency, and all three agencies have already moved to phase out aerosol spray cans.

But it may be many months before a total ban goes into effect, since federal law allows time for comments by manufacturers and the public. The agencies' rulings can also be appealed in court.

Pending a final ban on aerosols with fluorocarbons the FDA has proposed a warning label on spray cans discouraging their use.

These warnings, stating that the can contains fluorocarbons that may damage the atmosphere, may start appearing next year.

Aerosol sprays will remain on the market until a final ban takes effect and the FDA says no products will be recalled from stores.

Trade associations view any warning label as unwarranted and premature, and Dr. Schmidt has conceded that the danger from aerosols is probably small. But he said even a small risk is unacceptable.

The FDA's attitude may perhaps be summed up best by a current television commercial for a stick deodorant which stresses the wastefulness of spray cans.

"Get off the can. Get on the stick" -- it exhorts viewers.

Fashion FORECASTS

When you get down to it, the boot has always been "in" for outdoor wear. Now, with the resurgence of skirts and dresses and the tucked-in look for pants, the boot is more important than ever.

In fact, the "shoe look" now is boots, not only for fashion but for practicality. What else can give you such warmth and comfort on the coldest days?

A classic 15 1/2 inch height dressy boot with youthful fashion appeal called the Promenade is the type of boot that belongs in every woman's wardrobe. Styled in the popular riding vamp design, with full side zipper and zipper guard, it is available in seven colors of genuine suede leather and four colors of kid grain polyurethane. It comes from Grasshoppers, well-known for casual shoes, which is presenting a boot collection for the first time.

Defensively, the Wildcats line shut down the Chargers' strong running attack.

The Temple Wildcats put together an impressive season, and the loss, though it cost them the state championship, is nothing to be ashamed of. A winning season is in itself rewarding. It shows that the team is both well coached and talented.

A trip to the finals is something that most teams will never do and win, lose, or draw that's an accomplishment that no one can take away, not even the San Antonio Churchill Chargers.

Giving A Pleasure For Gardeners On List

Gift giving can be a pleasure for the gardeners on your Christmas list since there are many interesting, useful, and attractive gift possibilities.

Everett Janne, landscape horticulturist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, provides some last-minute gift suggestions for gardening friends and relatives.

"Top quality garden tools are sure to always please," says Janne. "There is a price range for almost any budget from the hand trowel or electric grass clipper to a riding mower or compost shredder. Most gardeners have the basic tools but the purchase of specialty items is usually put off until extra cash is available. Such items are sure to please even the most discriminating gardener."

A subscription to a monthly gardening magazine, suited for the area, will please any gardener and serve as a reminder of your thoughtfulness throughout the year, believes the horticulturist.

There are also many garden books available on a multitude of subjects. If undecided on the subject matter, consider a gift certificate from a good bookstore.

"Accessories for the garden are always welcome," points out Janne. "A sculpture or urn for the patio or garden will last a lifetime. Other gift suggestions for the outdoor area include a wind chime, a martin house, or bird feeder for the bird watcher, a hanging basket or fancy plant container, a hammock, porch swing, or other garden furniture, or a rain gauge, outdoor thermometer or barometer for the weather buff."

The horticulturist also notes that a wide variety of potted plants suitable for indoor landscaping can make excellent Christmas gifts. Outdoor plants also make welcome gifts.

A terrarium is a suitable gift for anyone interested in plants and can bring special joy to the shut-in.

"If all else fails in selecting a gift for the gardener, a gift certificate from the local garden center or nursery

A Weekly Report Of Agri-Business News

Compiled From Sources Of The
TEXAS DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE
John C. White, Commissioner

Good News And Bad ... Cotton Production Shows Increase ... Sheep, Lambs On Feed Down Again.

There's good news and bad news for people who like pecans and citrus. The Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service notes that pecan production in the state is down more than earlier forecast. Citrus production, however, shows an increase.

A slim crop of 18 million pounds of pecans is now forecast for Texas. This is 74 per cent below the 68 million pounds produced in 1975.

Improved varieties are expected to total seven million pounds while natives should total 11 million pounds.

Nationwide, pecan production is also down; the crop for this year is expected to be the smallest since 1962. It is set at slightly more than 100 million pounds, which is down 59 per cent from last year.

CITRUS PRODUCTION IN TEXAS is now set at 18,100,000 boxes; this is seven per cent more than last year.

Grapefruit production is expected to total 11,500,000 boxes. Production of all oranges is projected at 6,600,000 boxes.

Nationwide, the grapefruit crop is expected to show an increase of 12 per cent from last year. Orange production is expected to be up 13 per cent from last year.

COTTON HARVEST FOR THE STATE is now more than 50 per cent finished, and the crop is expected to total three million bales.

The Dec. 1 projection shows an increase of 150,000 bales over the previous month.

Harvested acres are estimated at 4,500,000, which is an increase of 15 per cent from last year. Yield is expected to average 320 pounds per acre, up slightly from last month and well ahead of last year's poor crop.

Nationwide, cotton production is set at 10,264,000 bales; this about a fourth more than last year. This total includes 51,000 bales of American-Pima cotton.

Texas' American-Pima crop estimate is 7,500 bales, which is 33 per cent below a year ago.

Wheat seeding is now complete throughout the state. Limited grazing is available in some areas.

Range and pasture conditions declined over most of the northern and eastern sections of the state. Moisture is generally adequate to above normal in most sections of the state.

Cattle conditions remain good in most areas; clear, warm weather is needed to stimulate growth of pastures and ranges.

SHEEP AND LAMBS ON FEED in Texas as of Dec. 1 total 55,000. This is 37 per cent below a year ago and is 21 per cent below last month. Current intentions to market include 16,000 in January and 14,000 in February.

TRY THIS RICE DESSERT—The Texas Department of Agriculture home economist recommends Million Dollar Rice Salad for upcoming holiday meals. An attractive dessert, it features rice, oranges and pecans enriched with cream cheese and whipped cream.

County Agents Notes

Trees Make One Of Best Gifts

By Bill M. McCutchen

Trees make one of the best Christmas gifts, and this is one of the better times of year to plant them so they can become established before spring.

Fruit and nut trees add to the landscape and they can add favorably to the diet and enjoyment if a lot of attention is given to variety selection and insect and disease control.

In selecting fruit trees one of the primary things to look for is chill requirement. The Milam County area needs trees of about 750 hour chill requirements. Varieties performing well in other sections of the state may well be a complete failure here.

Peaches that are recommended include Springgold, Redcap, Keystone, Harvester, TAMU Milam, Dixieland, Redskin, and Frank. These are listed in order of maturity with Springgold ripening in May and Frank ripening in August. Springgold, Redcap, Keystone, and Frank are clingstones and the remainder are freestones.

Apricots are not dependable producers but if you want to try one try a Hungarian or Bryan variety.

Pecans for Milam County should be chosen with a lot of attention given to disease resistance. I would recommend Desirable, Choctaw, Cheyenne, Caddo, and Shawnee.

For those making selections of peach, plum, or apricot you would do well to specify nematode resistance rootstock. This rootstock is more expensive but will prolong the life of your tree considerably, particularly in the sandy areas where nematode problems are likely.

For those that like to grow novelty fruit an orange (tangerine) is now available and cold hearty for this area of Texas. This is the Chang-Sha Tangerine. The skin is very loose, easy to peel and is a bright orange. The fruit has a sub-acid taste but has a large number of seed. The Chang-Sha Tangerine can be propagated as seedling trees by planting the seeds. Those wishing further information on this can contact the County Extension Office.

Lung Disease Seen In Cattle

John E. Snell

Acute bovine pulmonary emphysema, which affects both beef and dairy cattle, is causing problems in Texas again this year.

The Texas Veterinary Medical Diagnostic Laboratory has diagnosed several cases recently in mature beef animals grazing dry Bermuda grass pastures; however, the precise cause of the problem is still unknown.

Affected animals find it difficult to breathe due to a rupture of the air sacs in the lungs, allowing the air to escape. This interference with the normal exchange of air between the lungs and the atmosphere, and severely affected animals may die quickly. Others become chronic cases which do poorly.

Ranchers should be on the lookout for this disease. Some of the symptoms to watch for include: a cow may be seen standing in a field with her neck stretched out and muzzle elevated; she may breathe with her mouth open and emit a grunting sound on expiration of air. In some cases, a froth is seen around the mouth or nose. Digestive processes slow down or cease and bloating may occur.

Cattlemen can help prevent losses by closely observing cattle individually and watching for early signs of the condition. If a dead animal is found, an autopsy by a veterinarian to determine the cause can be helpful in preventing additional losses.

If cattle are found showing signs of difficult breathing, other animals should be carefully moved to another pasture and fed hay until the cause can be determined. Animals should be handled with care, since undue excitement or rough handling can intensify more respiratory distress.

A veterinarian should be called as soon as possible for treatment of affected animals. Prompt treatment with antihistamines, adrenalin, and other drugs has proven beneficial if administered early. The usual treatment for pneumonia is not effective in cases of bovine asthma.

A Christmas Tree

by Charles Dickens

The tree was brilliantly lighted by a multitude of little tapers, and everywhere sparkled and glittered with bright objects.

There were rosy-cheeked dolls hiding behind the green leaves and there were real watches (with moveable hands at least and an endless capacity of being wound up) dangling from innumerable twigs.

There were French-polished tables, chairs, bedspreads, wardrobes, eight-day clocks and various other articles of domestic furniture (wonderfully made, in tin, at Wolverhampton) perched among the boughs, as if in preparation for some fairy housekeeping.

There were jolly, broad-faced little men, much more agreeable in appearance than many real men — and no wonder for their heads took off and showed them to be full of sugar plums. There were fiddles and drums, tambourines, books, work boxes, paint-boxes, sweetmeat boxes, peep-show boxes and all kinds of boxes.

There were trinkets for

A Christmas Poem

The young mother (so very young!)
Smiles softly to behold Him
And takes a ragged swaddling cloth
To tenderly enfold Him
His infant eyes gaze upon
A world of strife and sorrow
Does He see now the silent tree
Awaiting some tomorrow?
But loving fingers take
His hand
With playfulness,
caressing;
He stretches infant arms to her,
As if in some new blessing
The mother laughs with sweet delight
At this endearing game
And speaks it for the first time:
His wondrous, holy Name.

the elder girls far brighter than any grown-up gold and jewels. There were baskets and pincushions in all devices. There were guns, swords, and banners, with witches standing in enchanted rings of pasteboard to tell fortunes.

There were teetotums, humming tops, needlecases, pen-wipers, smelling bottles, conversation cards, bouquet holders. There was real fruit, made artificially dazzling with gold leaf, imitation apples, pears, and walnuts crammed with surprises. In short, there was everything and more.

This motley collection of odd objects, clustering on the tree like magic fruit, and flashing back the bright looks directed towards it from every side, made a lively realization of the fancies of childhood, and set me to thinking how all the trees that grow and all the things that come into existence on the earth, have their wild adornments at that well-remembered time, Christmas.

Legend of the Lamb

There is a beautiful legend concerning one of the creatures in the stable where the Infant Jesus was born. It seems that there was a little lamb sharing the Blessed Child's first abode. As the animals all gazed in silent adoration upon the Holy Babe, this little lamb felt badly because it had no gift to offer the Newborn King.

Suddenly the lamb noticed how thin the Babe's blanket was... surely the Infant must be cold! The straw upon which He rested offered very little warmth. The little lamb knew then that there was indeed something it could offer to this Holy Child.
Quickly, the lamb nestled
by the Child, sheltering
Him from the cold.

Warned by the animal's shaggy coat, the Christ Child smiled and touched the little lamb. According to the legend, the lamb's coat was suddenly transformed into soft, curly wool. And that is why, the legend says, all sheep now bear a warm and woolly coat... as a symbol of a special gift offered by that little lamb on the first Christmas night.

MERRY CHRISTMAS

Gifts of great value and beauty were brought to the Christ Child at the time of His birth, the Scriptures tell us. Through the years, a lovely legend has evolved about the many gifts presented to the Newborn King. It seems that when all these splendid gifts were laid at the feet of the Infant, there was a little drummer boy watching sadly, because he had no riches to offer the Christ Child. The only thing the little boy possessed was his drum, and he thought, "Perhaps the Holy Babe would enjoy hearing my drum" . . . so the little drummer boy began to play and was rewarded with a smile from the Infant Jesus, for his gift of love.

It's a great feeling having friends as wonderful as you!
At Christmas,
and always, you're wished
all the good things you
so richly deserve.
